Workshops

WORKSHOP #1

Risk Assessment and Screening To Detect Familial, Hereditary And Early Onset Colorectal Cancer: Putting Knowledge Into Action

Given the growing concern of the NCCRT about poor screening for those with a family history of CRC and the growing problem of early onset CRC, the NCCRT has commissioned a new primary care clinician's toolkit that aims to improve the ability of primary care clinicians to systematically collect, document, and act on a family history of CRC and adenomas polyps, while also educating clinicians on the need for more timely diagnostic testing for young adults who present with alarm signs or symptoms of CRC and ensuring that those patients receive a proper diagnostic work up. Come get an in depth look at the toolkit and participate in exercises that will help you think through how to apply it in practice.

Moderated by Xavier Llor, MD, PhD, co-Director, Cancer Genetics and Prevention Program; Medical Director, Colorectal Cancer Prevention Program; Medical Director of Cancer Screening and Prevention; Yale University Cancer Center; NCCRT Steering Committee

Emily Edelman, MS, CGC, Associate Director, Clinical & Continuing Education, The Jackson Laboratory

WORKSHOP #2

Findings from NCCRT Market Research with the Unscreened about CRC Screening

Come hear an overview of the new NCCRT marketing research with the unscreened. Join this session for a fascinating look at the unscreened, what makes them a tougher audience than the rest of the population, and what triggers might motivate them to act from a communications perspective. The goal of this session is to provide effective messaging advice about reaching key populations if we are to get to an 80% screening rate.

NATIONAL COLORECTAL CANCER ROUNDTABLE MEETING

*Moderated by NCCRT Public Awareness & Social Media Task Group Co-Chairs
Anjee Davis, MPPA, President, Fight Colorectal Cancer, NCCRT Steering Committee and David Greenwald, MD, American College of Gastroenterology, Division of Gastroenterology, Montefiore Medical Center*

Bill Willard, Director, Marketing Research, American Cancer Society, Inc.

Michelle Aubertine, Project Manager, KS&R

WORKSHOP #3

Medicaid Best Practices around CRC Screening

The NCCRT has commissioned a new best practices guide that looks at how state Medicaid agencies have had success supporting and promoting CRC screening. Come hear what Medicaid agencies have to tell us about the importance of tracking and measuring, promoting testing options and developing a value-based purchasing measure for CRC.

Patricia (Schoonmaker) Selinger, MPH, Health Systems Policy Specialist, Oregon Health Authority, Public Health Division

Sian Goldson-Desabaye, MPH, DrPH, CPH, Health Policy Analyst, Planning Administration, Office of Health Care Financing, Maryland Department of Health

WORKSHOP #4

Costs, Decision and Colorectal Cancer Screening

Given the well-established complexity and confusion about the cost of CRC screening to patients, ACS CAN will be outlining the nuances of patient cost sharing requirements for CRC screening according to current laws and regulations, give an update on efforts to provide more coverage for patients, and share a hot-off-the-press cost analysis of federal colonoscopy copay legislation.

Moderated by Heather Dacus, DO, MPH, Director, Bureau of Cancer Prevention and Control, New York State Department of Health, NCCRT Steering Committee
